 AND THE AMERICAN HORTICULTURAL COUNCIL

We are closed to business on all National Holidays (except Veterans Day). The nursery is closed Saturday afternoons during July, August, January and February, and all Sundays. The Garden Center schedule is the same as above except that it will remain open all day Saturday during July and August.

Closed daily 12 to 12:45 p.m.

Mezitt's Garden Center in Hopkinton

THE WESTON NURSERIES was originally established in Weston by PETER and ANNA MEZITT in the mid-twenties. In 1945 several abandoned and run-down farms were purchased in Hopkinton. With considerable fortitude, effort and foresight, these waste lands have been turned into a thriving nursery. Several hundred acres are now producing the finest nursery stock ever grown in New England.

To make these plants easily available to our customers, we have built the Garden Center pictured above to be known as "Mezitt's Garden Center." The same effort required in creating the nursery itself has gone into the design of this Center. The landscaping of this area, in our considered judgment, is of the highest caliber. Ledge gardens, pools with waterfalls, specimen plants of every description — all make this spot worthy of a visit in itself.

You, the home owner, will find that your best investment in plants and garden supplies is at Mezitt's Garden Center on Route 135, Hopkinton, seven miles from Framingham.

Evergreens

Few, if any, plantings are effective without the use of evergreen trees or shrubs. Their presence reinforces the entire planting in the esthetic sense, and without evergreens the effect desired in a landscape grouping is lost.

As backgrounds and windbreaks they have no equal. Every planting needs the weight and stability of an evergreen to contrast and shield the more dainty and picturesque flowering trees, shrubs and perennials.

EVERGREENS grow easily in good garden loam. However, such soil conditions do not always exist, and then preparation of the planting area is necessary. Any soil can be improved by the addition of peat, peat moss, compost or other organic materials.

Particular care should be taken with evergreens planted under trees. Every plant has difficulty when first placed in such a location due to dryness and shade. Several years of regular attention, particularly with regard to water, are necessary before plants can send roots deep into the ground and become established.

Evergreens will not grow in land that is poorly drained, even though such areas are dry during the summer months. Plants that cannot be easily kept weed-free and cultivated should be mulched heavily with a coarse material such as hay or wood chips.

It is generally not advisable to fertilize evergreens when planting. After they are established for about a year, any recommended fertilizer used sparingly is advisable.

When evergreens are used in a restricted area, such as in foundation plantings, they normally require an annual pruning to prevent overgrowth and to give character to the planting. This pruning is best done during spring or early in the summer to allow time for additional growth to cover any possible unsightliness of the cuts. Hedge shears usually create a formal effect while hand shears or a knife are used if one wishes to prune for a more natural effect.

Broad-Leaved Evergreens thrive in soils rich in organic matter. They need soils that are acid and the liberal use of peat or peat moss is advisable. Being surface-rooted, this group of plants particularly enjoys either a mulch or a ground cover such as Pachysandra or Vinca to keep the soil cool and moist.

Deciduous trees are the key plants in every home landscape. Because trees take longer to get to a desirable size, we recommend that they be among the first items considered in a landscape planting.

Our trees are all grown in our nursery. They are periodically transplanted and root-pruned to develop vigorous root systems. Thus the shock of transplanting to home grounds is minimized and more immediate and rapid growth is assured our customers.

Good soil preparation and occasional THOROUGH watering during the first few growing seasons are advisable.

Hardy Ornamental Shrubs

It is interesting to note that many of the common shrubs in our everyday landscape are available to us because of the exacting efforts of early plant-hunting expeditions to distant corners of the world.

The growth of horticultural interest in America has necessitated broader cultivation of plant varieties and the development of new forms. The following listed plants are representative of the entire ornamental shrub group and individually have their place as specimens or as a part of the flowering shrub border. You will find them hardy and readily adjustable to your garden or home landscape and a never-ending source of pleasure in flower color and ornamental fruits.

All shrubs, except Azaleas and those marked B & B, will be dug bare-rooted and wrapped in moist hay or other material unless otherwise notified. During late spring and summer, when in leaf or flower, these shrubs should be balled and burlapped.

Azaleas

Azaleas are perhaps the most rewarding of plants to raise. The great variety listed on the following pages is all grown in our nursery in Hopkinton. We are continually trying out and hybridizing new varieties, and our standard varieties are grown from stock plants selected for exceptional qualities.

The culture of Azaleas follows the requirements of Broad-leaved Evergreens: acid soil, rich in humus, and full sun to partial shade.

Viburnums

The Viburnum family is perhaps the most aristocratic of hardy shrubs. Their form and character are unsurpassed as they become more beautiful with age. Viburnums do not require pruning and they are resistant to practically all diseases and insects.

The flowering forms such as Viburnum carlesi and Viburnum tomentosum warrant special attention in the horticultural world, and the fruiting varieties are unsurpassed for brilliance in the fall plus being an attractive source of food for birds.

Vines and Climbing Plants

The average garden planting can hardly be complete if it lacks the finishing touch of a vine to enhance some architectural feature. Vines can also be planted for screening purposes to provide privacy or to cover unsightly areas. Their rapid growth and ornamental value of foliage, fruit or flowers make them worthy of more extensive use.

Perennials and Rock Garden Plants

During the past thirty years we have given particular attention to the growing of hardy perennials, and during these years we have tried and tested hundreds of varieties, both old and new. We have found that the plants in the following list are best suited for our New England gardens.

Our perennial gardens are now primarily located on our new Garden Center property in Hopkinton, although we still have a limited selection available in our Weston fields. We have received many complimentary reports on our colorful and ever-changing display. Many of our customers take great delight in periodic visits to the nursery throughout the growing season to view the succession of blooms. We encourage such visits as they afford people the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the varieties we offer and to discover their own preferences.

Our plants are field-grown, and consequently have vigorous root systems, which assure successful transplanting.

The plants are 60c. each, 3 of one variety $1.50, 10 of one variety $4.50, unless otherwise marked. 5 or more of one variety may be purchased at the 10 rate.

The asterisk (*) indicates varieties particularly well adapted for the Rock Garden.

The ultimate height of the plant is given in feet and inches.

The approximate time of flowering is given in months.

Garden Chrysanthemums

One of the best investments in perennials is the chrysanthemum. The huge bouquet of flowers that last so long on every plant is ample reward for the casual care required in pinching the new growth until the middle of July and an occasional watering and feeding.

There are so many new varieties of chrysanthemums introduced each year that we are constantly screening out varieties that are inferior. The list below is one which we believe includes the best that is available in chrysanthemums.

Garden Center Items

With the opening of our Garden Center, we are now in a position to supply all the best types of

FERTILIZER PEAT MOSS AND PEAT HUMUS
INSECTICIDES GRASS SEED
ALL NECESSARY GARDENING AIDS

ANNUALS AND VEGETABLES

We are offering a choice variety of the more desirable ANNUALS as well as a wide selection of VEGETABLES.

FIREPLACE WOOD

During the winter months we can furnish FIREPLACE WOOD.

We are closed to business on all National Holidays (except Veterans Day). The Nursery is closed Saturday afternoons during July, August, January and February, and all Sundays. The Garden Center Schedule is the same as above except that it will remain open all day Saturday during July and August. Closed daily 12 to 12:45 p.m.

TO THOSE CUSTOMERS who feel the need of assistance in planting their homes, we would like to suggest that they bring a snapshot of the front, sides or rear of their home when coming out to the nursery. We are unable to send men out to see the grounds of our customers, but may be able to help here at the nursery in solving many problems if we can see the situation from blueprints, rough drawings, or snapshots.

Our experience in designing and planting thousands of homes perhaps quite similar to yours may be useful to you.

We will plant any material that we sell; but due to the need of our entire staff in the work of growing plants in our increasing acreage, we cannot do grading, lawn work, etc.

Conditions of Sale

IT is to our own interest to see that only good and correctly-labeled plants leave the Nursery, but we give no guaranty, express or implied, as to description, growth and success of any stock we sell, for it depends on correct planting, proper soil, weather conditions, and the general care of the plants.

We accept all orders upon the condition that they shall be void should injury befall the stock from frost, fire, hailstorm, or other causes over which we have no control.

Any errors made by us will be gladly rectified if notice is given within ten days after receiving the stock. If any plants are found to be misnamed, we will replace them the next planting season. Liability in all instances is limited to the purchase price.

We sell five or more plants of the same variety at the rate of ten.

All parcel post, express or freight charges are paid by the purchaser. On orders packed for shipment there is a small additional charge for packing, at cost. (See order blank — page 87.)

Prices are subject to change without notice.

We reserve the right to make an additional charge for specimen plants selected in the field.

A certificate of State and Federal inspection for freedom from injurious insects (gypsy moths, Japanese beetles, etc.) or disease on our plants is available with every order.
